The creative community's new project

“Cangiari is ethical innovation as well as being aesthetic innovation.” This is the brand’s concept. It was begun as part of a mission of the Goel Consortium, which is dedicated to social issues. In this interview many of the key players of the project, which they themselves define as being a creative community, tell of the brand.

Vincenzo Linarello is president of the consortium. Marina Spadafora is the designer of the new line. Nunzio Del Prete is part of the creative team. They each explain the new projects, the new collection and the philosophy that has brought to life this brand that is focused on ethics, aesthetics and ecology.
